

WHY

should you become a member of the COCC?

As a compost professional in Colorado, it is important that you have a voice and a vote in your leading organics industry organization. Full voting membership in the Colorado Composting Council (COCC) requires membership in both our national compost association, the US Composting Council (USCC), and our state material management non-profit, Recycle Colorado (RC). The COCC is a state chapter of the USCC that is connected to Recycle Colorado. Through its association with the USCC and RC, the COCC advocates to improve composting infrastructure, end markets, product standards and policy.

THE BENEFITS OF BEING A FULL COCC MEMBER

- A meaningful voice on policy specific to requirements & specifications of compost use & organics recovery
- Training & career advancement opportunities
- Compost specific articles & newsletters
- Opportunity to network & collaborate with other compost industry leaders
- Updates on compost markets & best practices throughout the State of Colorado

BECOME A COCC MEMBER!

A Recycle Colorado membership is required to join the COCC and a USCC membership is required to be a voting COCC member.

Have Questions?

Please don't hesitate to reach out to the COCC by contacting Sandy Briggs (BriggsS@bouldercolorado.gov) or Jamie Blanchard-Poling (jamie@compostqueenfc.com).

Connect with us on Facebook: CO Composting Council

COCC MEMBERSHIP LEVELS

Individual

$25

Municipality / NGO / Institution

City, Trade Organization, University

$125

Small Commercial

Business / Producer

$125

Large Commercial

Business / Producer

$250

Commercial Contributing

Business / Producer

$500

Recycle Colorado is the state's leading materials management nonprofit organization, dedicated to advancing infrastructure and end markets for material recovery, reuse and manufacturing.

Recycle Colorado Member Benefits

- A voice in policy specific to keeping valuable material resources out of our landfills and driving end markets
- Networking with material recovery advocates and experts
- Updates on the latest recycling and recovery trends and funding opportunities
- Access to all COCC meetings and announcements

The US Composting Council is an international leader in advancing compost manufacturing and utilization, and organics recycling to benefit its members, society and the environment.

USCC Member Benefits

- Opportunities to network with industry professionals, compost manufacturers & experts around the world
- Access to member-only documents and studies regarding all phases of compost manufacturing including:
 - Technical assistance
 - Marketing
 - Advocacy
 - Product specifications
- Discounts on:
 - Professional certification training
 - Seal of Testing Assurance Program (STA Certified Compost)
 - Conferences, conference workshops, webinars, production equipment partners

STA Certified
COMPOST
Clarity. Consistency. Confidence.